Brig. Gen. Gilmore, Commanding Department of the South:

Africto Gen. Morris, in Western Virginia, and utterwards the three years' service as Colonel of the 15th regiment Indians volunteers. He was appointed and confirmed as a Brigadier General in April, 1982, and has honoted his promotion over and over again by his services in the field. In the battle of Sione River, his division, alone of the whole army, though having andered severe loas, was not driven bas. His present division is new to him, but it is full of fight and of confidence in their commander. The organization of the division is a follows: First brigade, commanded by Col. Gilbert of the 44th, Ohio, composed of the 4th, 100th and 104th Ohio, and the 12th Kentucky regiments of infantry volunteers, and two batteries. Second brigade, commanded by Col. Cameron, 65th Illinois, 1064 Ohio, 24th Kentucky and the Tennessee regiments infantry volunteers, and Wilder's (Indians hand Phillings Illinois Ill

The plain machine is sold for forty dollars, and thence up the scale, according to inish, to one hundred and twenty dollars. This was also from Chicago, and is among the old pioneers is the sewing lime.

The Howe machine is a model of beauty, and ranks descreedly high among its composers, being the pioneer, the father of the race. Ellas Howe will have his name handed down a long line of generations after the art of hand sewing shall have been forgotten. These machines cost fifty dollars, they can, romark ably easy, do most excellent work, and must be exceedingly durable. It is exhibited by J. O. Bryant & Co., St. Clark streat, under the Sherman House, Chicago. The Howe machine was first brought out is 1835, and received the last finishing stroke in 1822, and now challenges competition with any other machina. The Committee will have no very casy tack before them, and we doubt if in half & day's trial they will be able to make the award, so excellent are the several machines. The work is not a safe criterion, as all is well done, and they will have to look at cheapuess, durability, adaptation and adjustability to ipotes the acutes, otherwise so evenly adjusted.

The show of patch work cultis is suormous, we had supposed that this brasch of the fine ari had culminated, but its dar is critesity in the the ascendant and we have conjusted look. THE WADSWORTH SUPT.—A short time since, on the occasion of the filing of his bill by complainant, we made a brief refecence to the soit brought by Elisha S. Wadsworth against the woll knows dry goods pobling house of Cooley, Farwell & Co. We refer to it again to say that the defendants have filed their rejoinder and a cross. bill, the whole making a solid pamphies of nearly sixty pages. A satisfactory abstract of either the bill or the answer we have regarded as impossible, and are content to passe with brief mention, a case whose only new interest is derived from the prominence of the parties and the magnitude of the claim. Large as the latter is, however, it is an amount either party could pay or lose with inconvenience comparatively triffing, so that there seems to be no easif for public sympathy—certainly not for the siterries in the case. We were unfortunate in our former brief mention, in searching to the complainant a design to prove frond in the adjustment with his late partners. With assitiadjustment with his late partners, which sestiment this suit was brought to set aside. He disvows that each is the nature of the suit. In short, it may be safely left to the courts as having GOLD CR NO GOLD.—There was a nice little question in controversy before one of the city jus-tices yesterday morning. It was of this nature. A party sold through a real estate and money bro-A party sold through a real estate and money bro-ker in this city, a note secured by moreover for one hundred and attesty-five dollars. The par-chaser paid for the note in gold. After the bar-gain was concluded, the money paid, and he had left the office with the paper, he came back to the signett, and remarked that as he. igent, and remarked that as he had paid for the note in gold, it was only proper that when the saper fell due, he should receive gold in payment paper fell due, he should receive gold in payment of it, and wished it so expressed on the face. The agent had no authority to make any alteration in the note, but sawned him that the payer would be obliged to pay in gold if the holder hadset on it, and finally agreed if there was any difficulty about it, to make the difference be tween paper and gold, good himself, and gave the holder a written promise to that effect. A year elapsed before the note-became due. The time was given,—at diret for six mouths, with the agent's consent; then for a year or more without his knowledge. Payment was smally made in paper, and the agent was small the defendant.
